Accessibility

Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi is committed to ensuring that all educational and other programs and activities are available to persons with disabilities in the most integrated setting appropriate. Students, employees, applicants and other individuals with disabilities served by A&M-Corpus Christi are not segregated, separated or treated differently.

Disability Services
Disability Services is the hub for coordinating services and accommodations to ensure accessibility and utilization of all programs for all A&M-Corpus Christi students with disabilities. These services are designed to meet the unique educational needs of enrolled students with documented permanent or temporary disabilities.

Web Accessibility
A&M-Corpus Christi is committed to making its Web sites accessible to all users. To that end, we have included several features designed to improve accessibility for users with disabilities. Images on the site contain 'alt tags' with descriptions of the image, which aid users who listen to the content of the site by using a screen reader, rather than reading the site. Major reports and other special publications that are made available on the web site are generally available in Adobe Portable Document Format (PDF). Many reports are also available in HTML.

The current major redesign was tested for accessibility with professional Web tools and certified to be Section 508 compliant by our Web consultant before implementation began.

A&M-Corpus Christi welcomes comments on how to improve the site's accessibility for users with disabilities. If you use assistive technology and the format of any material on our Web sites interferes with your ability to access the information, please use the following point(s) of contact for assistance. To enable us to respond in a manner most helpful to you, please indicate the nature of your accessibility problem, the preferred format in which to receive the material, the Web address of the requested material, and your contact information.

The primary web accessibility contacts for A&M-Corpus Christi are:

Web Services Manager, Marketing and Communications
marcom@tamucc.edu

Disability Services Office
