URGENT NOTICE

The State of Texas enacted a statute that applies to students who enroll in public institutions of higher education as first-time freshmen in Fall 2007 or later. Under section 51.907 of the Texas Education Code, “an institution of higher education may not permit a student to drop more than six (6) courses, including any course a transfer student has dropped at another institution of higher education.” Any course a student drops after the census date published in the class schedule or academic calendar (which for Fall 2008 is Sept 12th) is counted toward the six-course limit unless specifically identified as being exempt.

Policies and procedures for implementation of this statute are being developed and will be published as soon as they are available via your university-assigned Email address. A student affected by this statute that has attended or plans to attend another institution of higher education should become familiar with that institution’s policies on dropping courses. This statute applies across Texas public institutions, and procedures for implementation may vary between institutions.
