Definitions of Applicant Types:

On Campus work-study: The Federal Work-Study (FWS) Program is a government subsidized student employment program designed to assist students in financing their education. Students may qualify by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) every year. Undergraduate and graduate students are eligible. NOTE: The only way for students who receive the money is to get a job 12-20 hours per week, and earn it! Students are strongly encouraged to begin the job search early. Popular Work-Study positions are highly sought after and tend to be filled quickly.

On Campus Non Work-Study: Employment opportunities provided under the institutional student employment program are offered to students who indicate a desire to work on campus but do not meet the financial need requirements for the Federal Work-Study Program. Departments hire students through their department budget.

Off Campus Non Degree Part-time: Employment opportunities provided off campus for non work-study students.

Internships: Provide an individual with a monitored or supervised work or service experienced where the individual has intentional learning goals and reflects actively on what he or she is learning throughout the experience. These learning goals can include: academic learning, career development, skill development, and personal development. Resume required.

Full-time Non Degree/Degree: Resume will be required before access can be given.

Professional: Only Alumni will be given access to these types of jobs. Resume is required.
